Warsaw

Warsaw is well prepared for receiving guests. Since the 80's, it has been a place of interest for investors representing international hotel corporations. As a result, till the present day, the list of hotel facilities has been extended by the following chains: Le Royal, Meridien, Holiday Inn, Intercontinental, Marriott, Mercure, Sheraton and Ibis. Apart from hotels of varying type, the city offers youth hostels and camping sites. Consequently, Warsaw offers about 100 hotel facilities with 20 000 nights' accommodation of variable standard. This, in turn, makes it possible for any visitor to select a preferable vacancy in terms of criteria like prices and demands. No matter what your style, Warsaw has a night club to suit your needs, the "cool" places are either really worth visiting or to full of bravado, velvet ropes and bouncers with no necks. Posing comes in high doses in many places, so be prepared to see many well (or barely) dressed women. Trainers and jeans are sometimes frowned at, depending where you go. There are no licensing laws and many bars are open until the last guest leaves. A good source of more information on cafes, pubs and clubs is Warsaw insider <http://www.warsawinsider.pl/>

Clubs

Today, night life flourishes in clubs. In Warsaw house music and trance rhythms are just as popular as in London. The best DJs come to perform in Warsaw. Usually you can party till morning.

All weekends booked in Warsaw come with free holiday insurance and airport transfers.

New! For those who are too afraid to jump, we can also offer a bungee rocket or ejection seat for the same price on the same spot as bungee (can be done in pairs). A good alternative if you're scared of jumping and also a lot of fun.
